3.1 SCOPE

To provide new household-type appliances and warranted repair service for several County departments.

3.2 ENERGY STAR/ENERGY GUIDE (Energy Guide sticker)

Appliances and products that exceed federal energy efficiency standards are awarded the ENERGY STAR® by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE).

ENERGY STAR® helps consumers quickly and easily identify those products that will save energy and save money. ENERGY STAR® qualified appliances; for example, often exceed the efficiency levels of other new products on the shelf by 20%, but in some cases by as much as 75%. This high level of energy efficiency reduces the cost of operating the product or appliance throughout the course of its lifetime.

Manufacturers and retailers place the ENERGY STAR® on those models that meet the qualifying criteria.

Major appliances have a big yellow tag called the Energy Guide. It is provided to help consumers compare the operating cost of similar models when shopping for new appliances. All new refrigerators, freezers, water heaters, dishwashers, clothes washers, room air conditioners, central air conditioners, heat pumps, furnaces and boilers have an Energy Guide label.

While the Energy Guide is helpful since it indicates the operating cost and energy consumption of a product, only the ENERGY STAR® tells you which ones are energy efficient. (<http://homerepair.about.com> - Adapted from information from the US Consumer Department of Energy and the US Environmental Protection Agency.).

The label estimates how much energy the appliance will use in one year – based on average household use patterns, or the energy efficiency rating of the appliance. In addition, it provides the yearly cost of that energy, based on national average price for the fuel (electricity or gas). (www.energyguide.com)

3.3 ADA COMPLIANCE
